DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 1, drawn to a method for screening for a bioactive agent capable of binding to a cell cycle protein tankyrase H, classified in class 435, subclass 4.
- II. Claim 2-3, drawn to a method for screening for agents capable of interfering with the binding of tankyrase H with p21 protein, classified in class 435, subclass 4.
- III. Claim 4-5, 7 drawn to a method for screening for a bioactive agent capable of modulating the activity of tankyrase H, classified in class 435, subclass 4.
- IV. Claim 6, drawn to a method of diagnosing cancer by determining the activity of tankyrase, classified in class 435, subclass 15.
- V. Claim 9, drawn to a method of treating an individual with a cell cycle related disorder using the inhibitor of TaHo, classified in class 514, subclass 789.
- VI. Claim 11-19, drawn to polynucleotides encoding a protein, a expression vector, a host cell and a process of producing the protein, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1.
- VII. Claims 20-23, drawn to a recombinant polypeptide with SEQ ID NO:3 or 4, classified in class 435, subclass 196.
- VIII. Claims 25-26, drawn to an antibody, classified in class 530, subclass 387.5.
- IX. Claim 27-30, drawn to a method of screening for a bioactive agent capable of modulating PARP activity, classified in class 435, subclass 19.

Art Unit: 1652

- X. Claims 31-34, drawn to a method of screening a candidate agent capable of inhibiting proliferation, classified in class 435, subclass 325.
- XI. Claims 35-37, drawn to a method for inhibiting growth of a tumor cell, classified in class 435, subclass 344.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I through V, IX through XI are patentably distinct from each other. The method of group I drawn to screening for bioactive compounds capable of binding to tankyrase H, the method of group II drawn to screening for agents which interfere in binding to protein p21, the method of group III drawn to screening for agents which modulate the activity of tankyrase H, the method of group IV drawn to diagnosing cancer, the method of group V drawn to treating an individual with a cell cycle disorder, the method of group IX drawn to screening for bioactive agent capable of modulating PARP activity, the method of group X drawn to screening a candidate agent capable of inhibiting proliferation and the method of group XI drawn to inhibiting growth of a tumor cell are all unrelated as they comprise distinct steps, utilize different products and produce different results. The groups have acquired separate status in the art and separate fields of search as further evidenced by their separate classification.

Inventions VI, VII, VIII are patentably distinct from each other. The polynucleotide of group VI, the polypeptide of group VII, and the antibody of group VIII, each comprise amino acid sequences and nucleotide sequences which are chemically unrelated, do not require each other for practice; have separate utilities, such as use of the group VII polypeptide to regulate cell cycle versus the use of polynucleotide in a hybridization reaction, versus the use of the antibody in an affinity purification reaction and are subject to separate manufacture and sale. The groups have acquired separate status in the art and separate fields of search.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

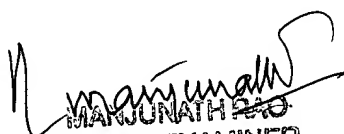

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
